Who Should Join?

The Indiana Association for Infant and Toddler Mental Health seeks membership from individuals, family members, students, caregivers, professionals, agencies, and others involved with or concerned about young children and mental health issues. As a member of the IAITMH you have an opportunity to help develop and participate in a wide variety of educational and advocacy activities in support of better mental health for Indiana's infants and toddlers.

The IAITMH members include family members, professionals, caregivers, agencies, and organizations concerned about the positive mental health of infants and toddlers.

What is Infant Mental Health?

Infant Mental Health is the social and emotional well-being that results when infants and toddlers are supported by nurturing relationships. It is enhanced by:

- ★ Supporting family/caregiver strengths and cultural values/beliefs
- ★ Identifying early signs of emotional and behavioral concerns
- ★ Providing families/caregivers with the necessary skills and tools to support health, social, and emotional development
- ★ Promoting successful partnerships among families/caregivers and community support systems

Your contribution and participation will help support and build a comprehensive network offering resources such as training and education, awareness and information, advocacy, and public policy issues affecting Indiana's infants and toddlers, and their families.

Membership Benefits

- ★ Opportunities to network with a diverse array of colleagues
- ★ Access to Library of infant and toddler mental health materials
- ★ Participation in education and advocacy efforts for mental health issues within a strong world network
